feel like a cushion, what does? THE DR. A. REED CUSHION SHOE. Why? because the sole is constructed in four sections, the outer sole, then a cork section, an inner sole, and next to the feet covered by fine French calf is the fibre cushion. That's where the secret is. Keeps the feet cool and comfortable in the summer.

THE CUCKOO.

How This Selfish, Restless Bird Gets Its Eggs Hatched.

A popular fallacy tells us that a cuckoo lays eggs in another bird's nest. She does not. She lays eight eggs on the ground. The eggs are in size, color, spots and shape in accordance with the information obtained, say, in Leigh woods: Out of the eight eggs five or six would closely resemble the hedge sparrow's. The other two might be those of a titlark, a wren or a linnet. Her male friends—about three or four to each lady—now come forward, select each an egg and carry it in its mouth to the nest of the prearranged foster mother. Only one cuckoo egg is placed in one nest. If he finds a cuckoo has preceded him on the same errand he seeks another cradle, knowing in a moment amid all the eggs present the cuckoo pedigree.

The deluded mother hatches the intruder with her own brood, and the interloper, having the faculty of being hatched sooner than the others, is of course the first to come out of his shell. He manages to wriggle underneath his brothers and sisters and presents them as a heave offering to the expectant rodents, mice, rats, stoats, and what not, and within twelve hours of his existence is the supreme occupier of the nest. He keeps his black mouth wide open continually, which the father and mother of the departed chickens as constantly fill until his body is too big for his home, and he departs therefrom forever.

The cuckoo leaves the last week of July. He is a restless being. After leaving Europe he begins in the north of Africa and ends at the Cape of Good Hope, whence he returns to Europe in the spring. Why does he go away and why come back? Food—the food he loves—the hairy caterpillars. He will eat other grubs, but these are his hourly bread.

It has been estimated in round numbers that out of every 100 hairy caterpillars that wriggle into life 99 are devoured by cuckoos. Everywhere nature is careful to maintain her balance. The cuckoo keeps down the millions of billions of hairy caterpillars and preserves our cornfields from being eaten up by hedge sparrows. The cuckoo is a born conservative and as long as he lives returns annually to the neighborhood of his birth.—Western (England) Press.

Keep Your Receipts.

Keep a systematic account of all the money you receive and spend. Be sure to get receipts for all that you pay out and file them in orderly fashion, alphabetically and by date. Put each year's receipts carefully away when the new year comes. How long you should keep them will depend upon the statute of limitations in your state—that is to say, within what length of time suit must be brought. In most states it is six years for a simple contract, oral or written, but twenty years if a seal has been attached to a written contract. The statute "begins to run" from the time of the last payment on a note or account. A new written promise or acknowledgment of the particular contract, signed by the person who is "chargeable," will restore your rights for another six years.—Caroline J. Cook in Good Housekeeping.

Duties of Daughters.

Where there is more than one grown up daughter at home certain duties should be portioned out to each, so that they will know what they are expected to do. To make the work pleasant and varied do not always give them the same tasks day after day, as they naturally tire of them, and the work will not be done so well. Don't always give them the most unpleasant work to do, as this is often the cause of girls taking such a dislike to housework and causes much grumbling and discontent in the home. For instance, one daughter might take over all the cooking for one week and the other the preparation of the table for meals and the care of the bedrooms, and the next week they can change over, and then the work will not become so monotonous to them.

"DOG CONSCIENCE"

Assertion that Child Has Absolutely no Moral Sense.

IS LIKENED TO A MONKEY

Physician Says Child Has No Moral Sense—Realizes There is Spanking On One Side and Candy on Other.

CHICAGO, June 16.—"Logical elimination" of the criminal, not capital punishment, but simply putting out of the way a menace to society, was the plan advocated by Dr. G. Frang Lydston of the College of Physicians and Surgeons last night, in a speech in the West Side Auditorium. He added that the child primarily has no moral sense, is a little animal, almost a little monkey, and can if let alone use its toes and fingers, as well as any of its Simian ancestors.

He asserted the child for some time has a "dog conscience." It realizes there is a spanking at one side and candy at the other, and by that compass it guides its conduct. Later there is a golden crown and harp on one side and perdition on the other, and the child is taught to keep the same sort of "dog conscience" in some cases.

In every case, almost, if he or she is not a raving lunatic, can get a marriage license. That is the worst cause," said Lydston. "A child of parents who have nothing to give it but sickness or, worse, some disease, some mental taint or physical deformity which warps the mind, cannot compete in the world. He cannot understand it. Suppose his parents die. There is that child left alone to make his way. He must live. Honestly if he can if he can understand what that means, but he must live. Society does not do anything for him until he steals and then it locks him up and if there is anything lacking in his criminal education, the penal institution perfects that.

"We have had capital punishment for years, but still crime is slowly on the increase and so is insanity. If a man is a hopeless criminal degenerate punish him in hate; make him the subject of 'logical elimination.' It is better for him and vastly more so for the community."

ACTIVITY AMONG CHURCHES.

CASTLE ROCK, Wash., June 16.—Rev. Fred Jackson, of the Christian church, has organized a boys' club which seems to be very popular with the boys. They gave an entertainment at the opera house last Saturday night, which was well attended by the people of the town. The features were a literary program, and a debate and drill by "the awkward squad."

The M. E. Sunday school gave a very interesting children's day program last Sunday morning at the church. The Sunday school of the Christian church gave their program in the evening. The house was packed to overflowing.

The Presbyterians are making preparations for a very interesting exercise next Sunday evening. They are renovating their church by repainting and papering the inside, putting down new carpet and new shades for the windows.

WILLIAM WILL AID.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—The conservative liberal paper "Strana" prints a story of Emperor William's promised support of Nicholas, if the Russian ruler adopts a firm policy. But the report is clearly traceable to sources hostile to Germany which tried to make it appear William was the evil genius of Nicholas. While it is undoubtedly true that Germany is concerned over the situation on the Western frontier there is no evidence of William counselling Nicholas in a reactionary sense.

ARREST FUGITIVE.

DETROIT, June 16.—United States Special Officer Clyde C. Coleman of Nome, Alaska, last night arrested here a man known in Detroit as L. Edward but who was placed under arrest as John Kirk on the charge of being a fugitive from justice. The case dates back to 1902 to a safe robbery in Nome, when from $600 to $700 worth of gold and diamonds was taken from the safe of a liquor store.

APPOINTED LECTURER.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 16.—Major Leonard Darwin, son of the late Charles Darwin, and from 1892 to 1895 a member of the British Parliament, has been appointed a lecturer on "Municipal ownership and public service industries," at Harvard for the next academic year.

AID GAELIC CAUSE

Dr. Douglas Hyde, Ends His Tour of America.

PRaises AMERICAN NATION

Returns to Ireland With Fifty Thousand Dollars of American Money—Wants American Good Will in His Work.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Dr. Douglas Hyde, president of the Gaelic league in Ireland, and Mrs. Hyde, sailed for their home in Ireland yesterday on the White Star Liner Celtic. Dr. Hyde took back with him a check for $50,000 to aid the causes of the Gaelic language in Ireland. This sum was raised at the public meetings that Dr. Hyde addressed during his visit of seven months. Before sailing Dr. Hyde said:

I have found nothing except a generous welcome in America. I have traveled 19,000 miles, visited over 60 cities and explained the cause of the Irish language to 80,000 persons. I have not heard a single word that was not favorable to our cause. I understand now, as never before, how great is this country and how numerous, strong and powerful are the Irish who are in it.

"There is a great likeness between the people of Ireland and this country. I would sooner have the good will of this country than anything else, in the struggle to bring back the language, music, and customs of Ireland."

A number of Dr. Hyde's friends here raised $2500 to buy him a motor car, for use in his work in Ireland. This fund was to have been presented to Dr. Hyde on Thursday, but he declared he could not depart from the rule of his life not to accept any personal reward for his service to the Gaelic League and in behalf of Irish unity. The contributions were returned to the contributors.
